Administrative Cooperation and
Citizen Access to Public ServicesThe problem.
Project's solution

Rural and peri-urban communities in Tulcea and Odesa face limited access to public services due to isolation, weak infrastructure, digital exclusion, and fragmented administrative processes. The project addresses these challenges through mobile administrative units, joint Romanian-Ukrainian field campaigns, and a coordinated Joint Action Plan that modernizes public administration and delivers accessible, citizen-centred, and cross-border public services directly to underserved communities.
